After a long time in the bus,we've been into a palace in Knossos

There were a woman who was talking about the palace's history.
Then the afternoon we had a bit of free time.
So we went into the town center in Heraklion. We ate a typical Greek street food Souvlaki

After we filled our stomach, we walked in the town and we bought some souvenirs in typical tourists shops.
Then we went back into our living town Rethymno in bus.
