Managing assistant students role-playing

Why making role plays in foreign languages ?

The high school Touchard-Washington has organized a staging morning in its conference room on Monday 27th September 2021 in collaboration with HND SAM2 students. The challenge was to show to SAM1 students the work and missions of Office Managers via role-plays in foreign languages. Thus after creating scenarios on different professional themes, they made an oral presentation in English, Spanish and German in front of first year students. Those role-plays allowed them to anticipate certain real situations they might face, especially during their internship abroad in a company. For instance : welcoming a person for an internship or holding a phone call with another firm.

A great opportunity to overcome our fears !

« Even if we were very stressed, these role-plays were very interesting and enriching for us. Thanks to this event, we realized that we were able to speak in front of people and this experience made us more confident with foreign professional phrases. It helped us gain and improve our professional posture to know how to address conflict situations in firms. Without these role-plays, I suppose we wouldn't have realized the importance of speaking especially in a language that is not our mother tongue. » said one of the second year students.

For the first year students, the role-plays allowed to discover the skills acquired during this curriculum of HND Manager assistant. So they were very receptive and impressed by this event.
